Crisis Threatens Mideast Over Syrian Coup

Doctor Probing Outer Space In Balloon Sets New Altitude Record

CROSBY, Minn. (AP)—An Air Force doctor probing outer space in a huge plastic balloon was believed to have set new altitude mark of nearly 19 miles late Monday when ground observers estimated the bag hit 100,000 feet.

Dr. David G. Simons of Lancaster, Pa., riding in a gondola suspended from the helium-filled bag, radioed that he was very comfortable and feeling fine after eight hours aloft. He said temperature in the aluminum capsule was 64 degrees.

Col. J. W. McCurdy of the Air Force ground observers for the project, said any substantiation of the record would have to await check of the balloon's instrument. He explained that estimates from the ground were subject to "wide error."

From a mine pit 450 feet deep on the Curuna iron range near here, the balloon had traveled about 100 miles west and slightly north to a point just southeast of Detroit, Lakes. It had averaged about 125 m. p. h. since its 9:30 a.m. release, about 140 miles north of Minneapolis.

The balloon was launched from the mile-long pit to prevent surface winds from tearing its delicate plastic to shreds.

H. C. Winzen, whose firm, Winzen Research, built the huge bag, said the original plan to have Dr. Simons stay aloft 24 hours would be carried out in view of his reported good condition.

The altitude, if finally confirmed by a check of instruments when the balloon comes down, would be a new record for a manned balloon flight. The previous record of 96,000 feet was set in June when Capt. Joseph Kittinger went up to test equipment to be used in Monday's ascension.

Third Antarctic Expedition Gets Under Way Soon

WASHINGTON (AP)—The third and largest expedition to the antarctic in as many years will get under way late this month under command of the veteran polar commander Rear Adm. George Dufek.

This year's "Deep Freeze" operation will be manned by 4,147 Navy, Marine Corps, and Air Force specialists. They will go south in 10 surface ships and 31 airplanes. As in the first two Deep Freeze campaigns, New Zealand will be the intermediate base for the seven scientific observation stations established in Antarctica in connection with the International Geophysical Year.

He was identified as H. T. Trent, about 65, of Galesburg, Ill., conductor on C.B. and Q. freight train No. 61. The freight was on a lay-over in Hannibal.

About 13,000 people are killed in road accidents every year in Germany.

Mohn Takes Blame For Issuing Charters To Racket-Led Locals

WASHINGTON (AP)—Vice President Einar O. Mohn of the Teamsters Union took full responsibility Monday for issuing charters to seven New York locals described by senators as hoodlum-led phonies.

But Mohn said the idea originated with James R. Hoffa, another Teamster Vice President who has become a central figure in the Senate investigation of the union.

Mohn said he was unaware of the locals' racketeer leadership, and okayed the charters as a routine thing.

Chairman McClellan of the Senate Rackets Investigating Committee has charged that the seven locals were used by Hoffa, Teamster boss in the Midwest, in a way calculated to extend his influence to New York.

The locals' votes helped defeat Martin Lacey as president of the New York Teamster Council 16, and replace him with John O'Rourke, a Hoffa man.

Each local was entitled to cast seven votes. There has been testimony that persons who had no connection with the union were listed as their delegates to the council.

Hoffa, who is expected to appear before the committee Tuesday, is now favored to become president of the Teamsters, replacing Dave Beck.

Mohn was the first witness called at Monday's session and he occupied the stand most of the afternoon, although the committee previously had announced plans to summon an unidentified witness ahead of him. The only other witness heard was Teresa Hanlon, a clerk in the Teamsters headquarters office, who followed Mohn.

Mohn told the senators that he hears the AFL-CIO is making some modification of its system for expelling union officials who invoke the Fifth Amendment to protect themselves.

Senate action is expected to come first, probably Tuesday.

Conference committee Democrats agreed to two compromises that pared $7 million dollars from the bill. But most of the Democratic program, vigorously opposed by the Atomic Energy Commission, was approved.

Republicans have characterized their opposition to the projects as a private vs. public power fight. Democrats have called that claim a smokescreen.

One compromise agreed to eliminate 40 million dollars for construction of a natural uranium gas-cooled reactor at the AEC plant in Arco, Idaho.

In its place, the committee substituted three million dollars for planning the proposed plant, similar to the Calder Hall reactor in Great Britain.

The other compromise eliminated one of the five reactors the Democrats want the AEC to build for municipal power groups and rural electric cooperatives.

The Arco plant and the five cop reactor projects had been eliminated by House action.

President, Dulles Confer On Syrian, Mideast Problems

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower reviewed the sweep of U.S. foreign affairs, including this country's torn relations with Syria, Monday in a conference with Secretary of State Dulles.

Dulles was accompanied to the White House luncheon meeting by Undersecretary Christian Herter, who has been in charge of the State Department during Dulles' nine-day vacation.

White House press secretary James C. Hagerty told reporters the agenda included the administration's embattled foreign aid program and other State Department matters. He declined to comment specifically on Syria, but State Department aides said this was a prime topic of discussion at the conference.

Later Dulles had an hour-long meeting with the British ambassador, Sir Harold Caccia. The ambassador came away from the meeting declaring that Syria seems to be heading toward becoming the first Soviet satellite in the Middle East.

He told newsmen he had some ideas for heading off Syria's drift toward Moscow but said they were not for public debate.

Police said Coast Guardsmen searched the waters until rain and darkness forced a halt. The hunt was resumed Monday.

Mrs. Struthers' husband, John, 31, and Nicholas Benda, 25, owner and pilot of the 14-foot boat, were rescued by members of a fireboat crew.

CHICAGO (AP)—The bodies of three persons who died in a boating accident were recovered Monday from the Calumet River.

They were Mrs. Florence Struthers, 31; Bert N. Hansen, 33, and his wife, Janet, 33. Relatives established identification.

The three were thrown into the river Sunday when the backwash of an ore carrier upset their small boat.

Police said Coast Guardsmen searched the waters until rain and darkness forced a halt. The hunt was resumed Monday.

CHICAGO (AP)—No one has offered to give it back, so Standing Arrow, left, a Mohawk Indian chief, says that he is going to demand that New York State return the millions of acres taken from the Indians by the white men. Standing Arrow claims it was taken illegally. If the state acceded to the chief's demands, he would own most of New York. A reasonable fellow, Standing Arrow says he will settle for cash to be used to build an Indian city on the banks of Schoharie Creek at Fort Hunter, N.Y. Administration Defeat

Conferees Adopt Program For U.S.-Built Atom Power Reactors

WASHINGTON (AP)—The major part of a Democratic program for government - constructed atomic power reactors was reported adopted Monday by a Senate-House conference committee.

The result was a defeat for the administration, which had tried to knock the reactor projects out of the 389 million dollar Atomic Authorization Act.

Republicans and Southern Democrats had allied in the House to eliminate most of the projects from the bill. But Senate Democrats held firm last Friday night to restore the projects and send the bill to the conference.

Rep. Carl Durham (D-NC), chairman of the Senate-House Atomic Energy Committee, said the conference committee vote was "almost unanimous." He predicted it would be accepted by the House.

Senate action is expected to come first, probably Tuesday.

Conference committee Democrats agreed to two compromises that pared $7 million dollars from the bill. But most of the Democratic program, vigorously opposed by the Atomic Energy Commission, was approved.

Clique Of Pro-Soviet Officers Led By Gen. Bizry Seizes Control

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
AP Foreign News Analyst

A new general crisis threatened the Middle East Monday as a result of the weekend power seizure in stormy Syria by a clique of pro-Soviet officers.

It will take some time for a full-blown crisis to develop, while the Syrian regime stamps out internal resistance and nails down its power. But already a wave of shock has gone through the ranks of Arab world leaders.

In addition, a sharp reaction can be expected from Turkey, which will have no liking for the prospect of a nation on her southern frontier becoming a military and political base for Soviet communism in the Middle East.

Problem For Nasser
For President Nasser of Egypt, the Syrian events pose big problems. An Egyptian officer commands both the Syrian and Egyptian armies in a joint command arrangement. But the rise of a known Communist, Jols Nasser's proclaimed policy of "positive neutrality" in the cold war, and is bound to raise profound anxiety in Egypt's middle class. To keep his control, Nasser himself now may be forced into some extreme moves—or, barring that, to revise his policy of professed enmity for the West.

Gen. Bizry In Control
For a while, the Syrian regime can be expected to be preoccupied with internal business. Gen. Afif Bizry, 43, known throughout the Middle East as an extreme leftist, apparently is in control of the army, but to keep that control he certainly must purge the officer corps of any shadow of resistance. That will take time.

Bizry promoted by presidential decree from lieutenant colonel to general, commander in chief and chief of staff, may find it necessary to invoke martial law once again while he cleans out the large number of conservative army officers who distrust and fear a policy of close collaboration with Moscow.

Syria lived under martial law throughout the last general Middle East crisis, while Egypt was fighting the Israeli and British-French invasion. The military rule permitted the leftist officer clique, directed in the background by Col. Abdul Hamid Serraj, the intelligence chief, to entrench itself and splinter the conservative political opposition.

Big Danger
The big danger is that the regime may have to invent pretexts for keeping the military in total control.

Syria is armed with Soviet weapons and the regime may be tempted to use them in some sort of adventure which once again could throw the entire area into turmoil and even threaten world war. A move of desperation against Israel or even in some other direction—to keep a shaky regime in control is not beyond the bounds of possibility.

Will Upset Neighbors
Syria's position will cause extreme nervousness in neighboring Iraq, Jordan and Lebanon, and in Saudi Arabia. Already King Saud of Saudi Arabia is reported to have called home his ambassadors from Syria and Lebanon to discuss the new situation.

Iraq's ruling group has been feuding for a long time with Syria's leftist leaders, while the Iraqi masses continue to view Syria as a faithful ally of their hero, Nasser.

Much the same situation faces Jordan's regime, which itself has passed through a severe crisis (Continued on Page Seven)

Eisenhower Doctrine Blamed For Troubles Between Syria, U.S.

DAMASCUS, Syria (AP)—Foreign Minister Salah Bitar Monday blamed the Eisenhower Doctrine for Syria's troubles with the United States.

"Syria has been the target of destructive activities aimed at making her accept the Eisenhower Doctrine," Bitar said in a statement to a news conference.

"It is already known that the main object of the conspiracy to overthrow the Syrian and Egyptian regimes is to set up governments that will change from liberal foreign policies and join the imperialist line."

Asked whether Syria might consider breaking relations with the United States, Bitar replied: "This question depends on the United States and steps she wants to adopt in the future."

Bitar denied that any of 10 officers fired from the army at the weekend were arrested. He said the officers were dismissed "in the country's interests."

American-Syrian relations have been near the breaking point since Syria accused the United States of plotting to overthrow the regime.

Three U. S. embassy officials were removed at Syria's request and the United States in turn withdrew its ambassador and ousted the Syrian ambassador in Washington. (Both were absent from their posts at the time and will not return.)

U. S. embassy officials termed the Syrian charges a "complete fabrication."

(The U. S. State Department now has publicly adopted a wait and see attitude on Syrian developments. The United States has committed 174 million dollars in economic aid under the Eisenhower Doctrine to Middle East nations that agreed to oppose Communist infiltration. Syria, which has the only legalized Communist party in the Arab sphere, rejected the offer.

Five Mountain Climbers Safe; Believe 7 Dead

TRENT, Italy (AP)—Five French mountain climbers, caught in shorts and blouses by a snowstorm high on Sasso Lungo Peak, fought their way down to their base camp Monday night. Seven other climbers trapped in this Alpine area were believed dead.

The French, including a woman, reached the Valtini shelter on the Sella Pass whence they had tackled the 10,400-foot peak near Bolzano Sunday. They were reported thoroughly chilled but otherwise all right.

A rescue party of 11 guides had tried unsuccessfully to find them. The guides turned back after getting half way up the mountain, reporting they had encountered snow up to their armpits.

The other seven climbers were trapped on 10,963-foot Marmolada Peak near Trent. They were in two parties. One was made up of two men, believed to be Germans, Swiss or Austrians. The other was a party of five believed to be Italians.

Mountain experts, felled by the snow and freezing temperatures in efforts to reach the seven Monday, expressed belief all had perished. Weather permitting, a fresh hunt will be launched for them at dawn Tuesday.

AMHERSTBURG, Ont. (AP)—There were two Mary Hamiltons here and for years postmen got their mail confused.

Recently one Mary Hamilton was married and became Mary Hall and the postmen thought that ended their troubles.

But last weekend the second Mary Hamilton married. Now she is Mary Hall.

Lutherans To Give New Tools, More Funds To Missionaries

MINNEAPOLIS (AP)—The Lutheran World Federation launched a five-year plan Monday aimed at giving Lutheran missionaries new tools and more money to combat a drift toward "an international civilization without God."

Delegates to the federation's third assembly approved a program for closer teamwork in parts of the world still unreached by the gospel. The action followed a report in which the federation's missions department called on Lutherans to contribute more and to marshal the full range of mass communications in order to speed up conversion.

Among other things the federation plans to:

- Sponsor continentwide church conferences.
- Stimulate churches in the use of new evangelistic methods provided by the technological age.
- Aid in the establishment of native churches.
- Continue supporting needy churches, especially in Africa and Asia.

Encourage greater unity among churches in all parts of the world. Later, in a talk prepared for the evening session, Dr. Fridtjof Birckel of Norway, director of the federation's missions department, appealed for give-until-it-hurts attitude among Lutherans.

The Christian church has failed to stay abreast of its opportunities, he said, partly because it has shown "a bad example these last centuries—we didn't sacrifice."

In his report, Bishop Birkell proposed a worldwide Lutheran broadcasting service to shore up missionary work in Africa and Asia.

He told delegates Christianity has lost ground in Asia during the postwar upsurge of nationalism which, he said, has in effect installed Asian religion as the official faith in many countries.

Politics has made full use of radio, he said, and religion should do the same.

FORMER MEREDOSIA MAN MARRIED

A wedding of interest to many friends in Morgan and Pike counties was solemnized at the Meadows Memorial church near Gridley, Ill., uniting Miss Donna Gay Wilson and William Thomas Thurmon, at 3 p.m. Saturday, July 27.

The Rev. Lotus Troyer officiated at the double ring ceremony in the presence of 125 guests. The altar of the newly decorated sanctuary was banked with palms and baskets of white gladioli.

The groom is a son of Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Thurmon of Cham-paign, former residents of Meredosia, where they owned a grocery store, and later resided at Pittsfield where they were proprietors of the Red and White store.

Preceding the ceremony, Arthur Eymann of Minonk provided the traditional organ music and accompanied the soloist, Lowell Litwiler, as he sang "Because," "I Love You Truly" and, following the ceremony, "The Lord's Prayer."

The bride's younger brothers, Richard and Norman Wilson, dressed in identical white linen suits, lighted the tapers in the candelabrae, and Paulann Thurmon, groomed in floor length white gown, was flower girl.

Father gives Bride in Marriage The bride, given in marriage by her father, was lovely in a waltz length gown of chantilly lace over satin fashioned with long pointed sleeves and a fitted bodice which closed down the back with tiny covered buttons.

Iridescent sequins and seed pearls outlined the Sabrina neckline and trimmed the bouffant skirt. Her finger veil of tulle, edged with Chantilly lace, fell from a crown headpiece of sequins and seed pearls. She carried a white orchid with satin streamers on a white Bible and wore the bridegroom's gift, a necklace of matching pearls.

Miss Carol McChesney of Anna-ma, maid of honor, wore a pale yellow ballet length gown, designed with a lace bodice, scoop neckline and a bouffant tulle skirt. She wore matching mitts and headpiece, and carried a colonial bouquet of lavender asters.

The bride's sister, Miss Sharon Wilson, and Miss Karen Witzig, both of Gridley, were bridesmaids. Both wore gowns styled identically to the maid of honor's in blue and pink, respectively.

They wore matching headpieces and carried colonial bouquets of asters to match their gowns.

Pittsfield Man Best Man David Plattner of Pittsfield, fraternity brother of the groom, served as best man, and usher were David Culbertson of Normal and Marlon Butler of Sionhurst, also a fraternity brother.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Wilson chose a navy blue linen sheath dress with a white lace picture hat and white accessories and wore a pink carnation corsage. The bridegroom's mother wore a light blue silk shantung dress with matching hat and white accessories. Her corsage was white carnations.

Following the ceremony a reception was held in the church parlors. The bride's table was decorated with a beautiful centerpiece of gladioli, snapdragons and greenery in a crystal bowl and with lighted candles in double crystal holders. A three tiered wedding cake topped with a miniature bride and groom, encircled with greenery, adorned the table.

Serve Cake and Punch Mrs. Albert Wilson, aunt of the bride, served the cake, and Miss Gloria Grady served the punch. They were assisted by Mrs. Lotus Troyer, Mrs. Art Streid, Mrs. Ralph Kuerth and Miss Bev Meiss.

In charge of the guest book was Mrs. William Kreighausen, Miss Deborah Thurmon, Miss Carol Vanderaft, Miss Charlotte Krone, Miss Elsie Gramm and Miss Doris Helen Helm had charge of the gifts.

Mrs. Thurmon is a graduate of Gridley high school and attended Illinois Western University where she pledged Alpha Sigma Alpha sorority.

Mr. Thurmon graduated from Pittsfield high school and also attended Western, where he was a business major and a member of the varsity gymnastics team. His fraternity is Delta Sigma Phi.

After a short wedding trip the newlyweds are at home at 109 West Starnage, Champaign. Mr. Thurmon is associated in business with his father.

Thirteen persons, 12 of them riding in one car, were injured in a three-car accident on the Veterans Bridge at St. Louis.

In serious condition was Cecil Duncan, 41, of St. Louis, who had a fractured right leg and head injuries. Six others remained in the hospital and six were treated, then released.

The collision late Saturday night involved cars driven by Horace P. Cameron, 53, Sam Anderson, 49, and Cecil Duncan, 41, all of St. Louis, police said. Cameron and Duncan collided and Anderson struck a bridge abutment.

Hospitalized were Ricky Lee Duncan, 5, son of Cecil; Mrs. Ray Dawson, 41, of Winchester, Ill., her two sons, Danny Ray, 10, and Richard Paul, 8, and Duncan.

Treated and released were Mrs. Cecil Duncan, 23; two other Duncan children, Michael, 3, and Rex, 6; Beverly Dawson, 12, daughter of Mrs. Dawson; Mrs. Raymond Bolen; Robert Turner, 29, of Jacksonville, Ill.; and Horace Cameron.

Cameron and Anderson were alone in their cars, police said. Mrs. Dolly Dawson is the widow of Ray Dawson, who died at Barnes hospital in St. Louis a month ago. Before his illness he and his wife operated a trash and garbage truck in Winchester. It was reported that she suffered head and facial cuts. Her six-year-old son, Rex, sustained a broken leg. Her brother, Herb Hoots, Winchester farmer, went to St. Louis at noon today.

Mrs. Dawson is the mother-in-law of Cecil Duncan, driver of the car containing the 12 passengers.

Robert Turner received cuts of the forehead and left hip. E. St. Louis police said Cameron was booked on a state charge of reckless driving and that Anderson was booked as a material witness. The accident happened about 200 feet east of the first span on the E. St. Louis end of the bridge.

Farm Wagon Runs Over, Injures Godfrey Man

JERSEYVILLE — Clarence Brezenger of R. 2, Godfrey, was brought to the Jersey Community hospital Thursday evening for treatment of injuries received when he was run over by a farm wagon loaded with hay. It was estimated about 50 bales were in the wagon at the time of the accident.

Brezenger suffered contusions on the legs and chest, possible fracture of the ribs and shoulder injuries. X-rays were taken to determine the extent of injury. The patient was dismissed after treatment.

Mrs. Roger Moore of Jerseyville Route 2, fell while carrying a glass bowl Friday at her home and suffered a cut on the right wrist from broken glass. No major vessels or tendons were cut but the wound bled profusely. Sutures were applied and the patient returned home.

STRONG GALES CAPSIZE BOATS IN LUZON

MANILA (AP)—Strong gales capsized four fishing boats off the western coast of Luzon Sunday. Eight fishermen were reported missing and feared drowned, the Philippine constabulary reported.

4-H Club Activities

The Chapin Top Notchers Girls 4-H club had a tour at Beards-town August 6. First they toured the Beardsdown Feed and Flour Mill. After dinner they met at the Recreation Park for a brief meeting. The 4-H club has been years in the making and by the leaders. The Chapin homecoming and the 4-H window display were discussed.

After the meeting the girls, mothers and friends toured the glove factory.

To end the tour the girls spent the rest of the afternoon swimming in the new Beardsdown pool.

The Chapin Top Notchers Girls 4-H club held a recent meeting at the high school. The meeting opened with the pledge of allegiance led by Kristina Cully. The group sang "Battle Hymn of the Republic." Roll call was answered by naming first aid hints. The minutes were read and approved.

A report on the food sale was given by Pam Reuter. Janet Schumacher gave a report on the Queen contest. Members then planned the club tour.

Mrs. Russell Werries, a registered nurse, gave an interesting talk and demonstration on "First Aid." The club members participated in the demonstration.

Talks given were: "Cakes," Gayle Rigor; "Choose Cloth That is Right for You," Pamela Reuter; and the song story, "Tritonlea," Judy Berghaus.

Demonstrations given were: "Know Different Seam Finishes," Marilyn Schumacher, and "Making a Sandwich Filling," Martha Thompson.

Members finished reading and studying the fire prevention activity bulletin.

A poem was read by Karen Smith, and Carol Anderson played a piano solo.

The group sang "Tritonlea" and "We're Looking Over a Four Leaf Clover," accompanied by Janet Schumacher.

The meeting closed with the 4-H pledge led by Pamela Reuter. Refreshments were served by Martha Thompson, Carol Anderson and Sandra Auldenkamp.

STAMPEDE AT BLUE SPRINGS

XXX

WE walked toward the depot in the warm sun. When last I looked, Peterson stood behind his desk staring out the window east toward the ricks of tones.

I said, "Maybe I ought to stay in Blue Springs, Harney."

Blanchard put his hand on my shoulder and gripped hard. "You go if Dorsey comes. Like we said You'd be crazy not to."

"But in there, you said..."

"You don't have to prove anything. This town does."

Blanchard had a way of making things right for me. You had a trouble, you talked to him about it. He picked out the sense in it for you and you had it about whipped. It was the thing I'd missed most, maybe, not being able to spread out a trouble and have somebody pick it apart. A father would do that for his boy. It seemed to me. Any father except Chad Ambrose. Old Chad never gave me much chance, that was for sure. But maybe if I'd asked for some help, he'd wanted to get himself in shape to give me some help.

John McNabb stopped my thinking. He stepped around the corner of the depot just when Blanchard and I were in the cow-towns we hear a lot about federal marshals, the ones like you, anyway. I reckon most of us hope some day we'll get a chance to work with one of you, maybe learn how you do things. Well, it's funny. Here's my chance. Only I'm not marshaling any more.

"The town might ask you to be marshal again before this day is over. Would you take the job?"

"You mean... Peterson? He's thinking of going against the Clements?"

Blanchard looked back toward Peterson's office. "Well, he's thinking. Would you take the job?"

McNabb's shoulders went back and his chin lifted. "Sure," he said.

"All right," Blanchard said. "I'd be proud to have you with us, McNabb."

"I'll be ready," McNabb said. "You'll remember about Cole..."

Lillian Jethroe stood on the hotel porch. She saw us and came down the steps. She was without a hat and I saw the excitement in her face.

She said, "I thought you'd never come. Nobody knew where you were."

Blanchard said, "What is it, Lillian?"

"A rider came to me not half an hour ago, at the house. From the Clements. He said that Cole was coming to see me about dark and I should be ready. I knew I should tell you right away."

"All right. Now what you'd better do is take Dick and go stay with somebody. Take that man with you and not much else."

"BUT that might spoil it all! I said I would help. Well, now let me do all that I can! If I stay there tonight and wait for Cole, I might find out exactly what you need to know. Would they warn me this way if they intended to hurt me?"

"I don't know," Blanchard said.

Lillian looked at me. "What do you think, Pike?" She waited for the answer. I'd just heard McNabb warn us about Cole.

I knew that if she really wanted to do that, she would do it, and even Harney Blanchard couldn't stop her. I said, "Maybe it's all right."

Blanchard frowned. I could see him thinking he'd been out-voted and he didn't like it. Then he shrugged. "All right. But there's time to change your mind."

"I won't change my mind," Lillian said.

"Would you use that gun?" Blanchard said. "Pike says you wouldn't."

Lillian looked at me. "I wonder where Pike got such an idea. I don't know. I suppose I might."

Owning a Chevy's the only way to have all these fine things

These are some of the things that make owning a Chevrolet such a very special pleasure. You'll find that Chevy's the only low-priced car with any of them... the only car at any price with all of them!

BODY BY FISHER. Here you see the solid construction and close fittings, the fine craftsmanship that the other low-priced cars can't quite seem to match.

SHORTEST STROKE V8. This one turns raw horsepower into pure pleasure with a super-efficient design that's years ahead of other V8's in Chevrolet's field.

BALL-RACE STEERING, STANDARD. As smooth-working as steel balls bathed in oil! It's a big reason for Chevrolet's famous handling ease.

TRIPLE-TURBINE TURBOGLIDE.* There's not even a hint of hesitation as triple turbines take you from a standstill to cruising speeds. A special retarder saves brakes on downgrades.

New York Giants To Become San Francisco Giants

Harry Grayson's SCOREBOARD

By HARRY GRAYSON
NEA Sports Editor

SEATTLE, Wash. (NEA)—The faint-hearted who call Pete Rademacher's bout with Heavyweight Champ Floyd Patterson here on Aug. 22 nothing more than pre-planned slaughter—and are properly horrified by it—are guilty of a gross misstatement, if you listen to boxing people.

They say Rademacher isn't going to be around long enough to get badly banged up. He doesn't figure to last more than a round, at the most, in the most fantastic promotion in boxing history.

Patterson is getting $250,000 for destroying a rank amateur, an opportunity many a $50 fighter would welcome. Patterson gets only money from this. Certainly there's no glory in it.

Rademacher cannot fight by professional standards. In training at nearby Issaquah, you saw a big, strong guy who seemed agile at first, but when viewed over a number of rounds with Clarence Hinant and Johnny Riggins came out as downright slow. He's a fumbler, a pawner with his left hand. There is considerable question here as to whether he has any kind of a punch at all. His amateur outings long since have demonstrated he cannot take one.

Patterson is a fighter of tremendous potential—remember that, for in a couple of years he will be a sight to see—and with this in mind, the fact that Rademacher is to fight him for the title becomes incongruous.

Take, for example, the big hope of the expected crowd of 25,000, which will pay $400,000. That's the belief Pete will hit Patterson on the chin and walk away with it all.

This has been fostered by flag waving attending his conquest in the Olympic games. But what did Pete Rademacher do in Melbourne? He shoved down a helpless, spiritless and cumbersome Czech a couple of times and the referee stopped it. Dan Bekker of South Africa fell into the ropes in the third round and the referee stopped it.

The Russian Rademacher stopped had no defense and went down a couple of times. The referee stopped it.

The blunt facts are—Rademacher didn't score a clean knockdown in any of the fights. And he was fighting little boys, compared to Patterson.

Patterson is a cautious fighter. He comes out with hands high and close to his face. If his opponent is lazy, he'll wait, too. He makes a fight on his own terms, opening up only when he's absolutely certain he won't be countered effectively.

But even Floyd's cautious attitude will dissolve to a couple of bold, send-the-guy-home combinations once he sees what he is up against.

There is another question here. Sick's Stadium, where the fight is to be held, has dressing rooms. Rademacher will use the one occupied by the Seattle Rainiers of the Pacific Coast League. Now, you must ask yourself, will this boy react when he is placed in that room for the two-and-a-half-hour wait before the man opens the door and tells him, "Rademacher... you're on."

Max Baer was a big talker and he pulled his socks on over his shoes while getting ready for Joe Louis. Jersey Joe Walcott refused to put his trunks on before meeting Rocky Marciano the second time. Ring lore is filled with these tales.

Baer and Walcott were big, experienced professionals. They could fight. Rademacher is neither. Somewhere, someplace, there is going to be a moment, in that dressing room, when he will realize his magnificent sales pitch is over; that things now must be decided with six-ounce gloves.

This is not to say Rademacher has no stomach. Nobody who ever got in a ring under any circumstances could be charged with this. But he is human and he has never been called on before to sit it out in a dressing room before a professional, money-not-medals fight. Not to mention a fight for the heavyweight title.

If Rademacher manages to hold his bold front, his friends and relations in the audience can have the thrill of seeing him come out of his corner and make a try, anyway—however short it will be.

And under the terms of the promotion, Pete will come out still unsuited by cash. Youth Unlimited, Inc., the rather nebulous Columbus, Ga., organization which got up Patterson's money, agreed to take 60 per cent of the purse. Even with a sellout, they figure to blow a stack of money. There is no room in the budget for Rademacher to get paid at all. Nor is there room, even in imagination, for him to win. But we are here just in case.

Giants' New Stadium Will Nestle Into Hill, Seat 45,000 People

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—The scenic site of a new 10-million-dollar home for the New York Giants came partly by happenstance. Contractor Charles L. Harney recalled Monday that, because he needed fill dirt for an industrial project, he suggested the city cut off the top of a hill in the Bayview Hills area and enlarge a park it owned there.

The city didn't go along with the idea, but subsequently a near-by site, just south of Hunters Point, was chosen for the 30-acre baseball park and parking lot. That put Harney squarely in the middle of the major league picture. He owns 60 of the acres, the city 11. Under the plan submitted, he will build the 45,000-seat stadium and arrange for financing one-half the cost.

In 1954, voters of San Francisco, passed a five-million-dollar bond issue for a stadium, the money to be available only when the city gained a major league franchise. Since then, building costs have gone up and plans enlarged.

"If conditions are right, we're ready to go ahead," said Harney. He expected no trouble getting the other five million.

Plans call for the Giants to play the 1958 season in Seals Stadium, home of the San Francisco team in the Pacific Coast League. This has a 22,000 capacity. The new concrete and steel stadium will be ready for 1959.

Construction of a park in San Francisco poses two problems, weather and accessibility.

Chilly winds and cool night air are drawbacks. To meet this, the site nestles into a hill which breaks the direct path of the prevailing winds. A heating system will be installed.

There are 51 miles of bicycle paths in New York City.

HOSPITAL SQUAD ALL READY FOR STATE TOURNAMENT

The Jacksonville State Hospital softball team, champions of the qualified 21 teams staged in Loomi last week, will compete in the state tournament in Litchfield this week.

The local nine will first meet General Cable of Monticello at 9 p.m. Thursday.

The Waverly Knights of Pythias squad, runner-up at the Loomi meet, will play its first game at 9:45 p.m. Friday, against Kankakee. Champaign is the defending champion at Litchfield.

If both Jacksonville and Waverly win their opening games they will meet again at 1:30 p.m. Sunday. The tournament will close Monday night.

Sixteen teams have been entered in the Litchfield tournament. The winner and runner-up will go to national region to be held in Aurora, where the Aurora Seal Masters are the defending champions.

The local team will take a record of 34 victories and eight defeats into the Litchfield tourney.

Golfer May Turn Down $50,000, Exhibition Games

NEW YORK (AP)—Imagine being so loaded with dough that you turn thumbs down on $50,000? That's the enviable position of Dick Mayer, who a little more than a week ago added the $100,000 Tam O'Shanter "World's" golf title to the U.S. Open title he had won previously.

The handsome, blond stylist from St. Petersburg, Fla., received $50,000 in cash and an option to play 50 exhibitions at $1,000 a throw.

"I haven't decided whether to go through with that exhibition schedule or not," the Open champion said on a brief visit Monday.

"Any more money I make now goes to the government. What I could keep would be chicken feed."

Mr. Mayer (George S. May, sponsor of the Tam event) has given me, until Sept. 1, to make up my mind."

Mayer, who a few months ago was so broke he started to quit the tour and had to borrow to keep going, said there were two reasons for this decision:

1. The money he could make—and keep—from such a tour would be negligible, once the tax bite is made.

2. He doesn't want to jeopardize his golf career by remaining off the circuit so long, getting fat on his prosperity and losing his edge.

Mayer had won $40,000 this year before his $50,000 windfall at Tam. This plus money received for endorsements, TV appearances, etc., have placed him in the 70 per cent income tax bracket. Every dollar he makes, Uncle Sam gets 70 cents.

Bellatti And UI Grid Star Appear On WLDS, Exchange Club Program

The annual poster tour heralding the University of Illinois grid season brought Charles M. Bellatti, chief of the U.I. public relations department, and Rod Hanson, talented end for the Eliotmen, to Jacksonville Monday.

During the late afternoon they appeared on the Barney Lewis Sports Show from WLDS and later in the evening they were the guests of the Jacksonville Exchange Club.

Tomorrow Bellatti and Hanson will visit Quincy, Carthage and Macomb, to leave behind the U.I. grid prospects for 1957. He's an end that stands 6-3 tall, weighs 210-10 pounds for each year of his age—and is a nephew of Harold Hanson, celebrated Minnesota stalwart of 30 years ago.

Hanson feels that Ray Eliot and his men should have a good year—but he fears Minnesota and Michigan State. He's sure that the success of the Gophers hinges back, Bobby Cox, and his line—which now promises to play in the 230 pound bracket.

"We have some top lettermen back this season," Hanson told club members, "but we're depending much upon the sophomores on the squad, both for spirit and strength in depth."

Capt. Smith Is Ready
Capt. Dale Smith, halfback senior from Georgetown, Ill., is in fine trim, Hanson declared. Smith was all-navy all-star for two years while he was in service at Pensacola, Fla.

"Bill Offenbecker of Alliance, O., is shaping up as a grand quarterback for the Illini. He succeeded the famed Lenny Dawson of Purdue fame as field manager of the Alliance high school squad."

"The Illini line looks about an average of 212 pounds, with plenty of hustle and spirit. There are quite a few lettermen back, but they'll have to keep on their toes if they keep their berths, for there'll be plenty of enthusiastic sophomores around the field this fall," Hanson predicted.

Likely looking backs, he said, include Jack Delvaux, a junior from Chicago Fenger High, Chicago, and Ray Nische, a senior from Proviso of Maywood, Bob Mitchell, sensational senior from Hot Springs, Ark., seems to have his knee back in shape. As a halfback he made All Big 10 in his sophomore year.

Some of the likely sophomores coming into the front this year include Richard Kreitling, whom Eliot calls the best offensive end he has ever coached; Joe Wendryhoski, West Frankfort husky out for end, and Bill Burrell of Chebanse, a contender for the center post.

Yesterday Bellatti and Hanson visited Clinton, Springfield and Jacksonville. They were welcomed at the meeting of the Exchange club by George Foster, president.

Williams Named Winner Of Pro Athlete Trophy

NEW YORK (AP)—Sluggish Ted Williams Monday was named winner of the July trophy in the S. Rae Hickok pro athlete of the year poll. This qualified the Boston Red Sox star for the eighth annual prize.

Williams nosed out heavyweight boxing champion Floyd Patterson. The Boston outfielder received 138 points (on a 3-2 basis) from a national panel of sports writers and sportscasters. Patterson collected 132.

Patterson Winds Up Serious Boxing Drills, Rademacher Still Working

SEATTLE (AP)—Heavyweight champion Floyd Patterson wound up serious boxing drills Monday, challenger Pete Rademacher kept working and promoter Jack Hurley let loose with a few more verbal brickbats aimed at critics of the approaching fight.

A master of ballyhoo in boxing for some 40 of his 39 years, Hurley blasted such targets as the nation's television fans, and several literary lights whom he did not bother to identify.

The fight, for 15 rounds or less Thursday night at Sick's Stadium positively will not be televised nor broadcast by radio.

The country's free loaders, as Jack calls them, will have to find something else to view for free when the young champ of PITTSFIELD (AP)—Dick Vance was the top stock car driver in the feature event at the Pittsfield Stock Car races Saturday night. Vance, a Hannibal, Mo., resident, also won the seat race.

Francis Kelly of Macomb placed second in the feature, third went to Herman Hener of Hannibal, Mo.

Dave Allenworth of Plainville emerged first in the semi-feature. Pat Powell of Hannibal placed second and Duke Surrent of Beardstown came in third.

Bobby Southwell of Beardstown won the consolation. Shorty Hvarvin of Macomb, Dick Vance and Dave Allenworth were winners of the first three heats.

Gorman's Four Hitter Leads A's To 1-0 Decision

KANSAS CITY (AP)—Four-hit pitching by Tom Gorman and clutch singles by Bob Cerv and Tim Thompson gave the Kansas City Athletics a 1-0 victory over the Cleveland Indians Monday.

Gorman, now 3-7, won a pitcher's duel with the Indians' fast-balling Ray Nieski, 9-3. The veteran A's pitcher allowed only three bases on balls. He fanned two of the last three batters he faced.

Nieski scattered five hits and fanned six batters but gave up seven bases on balls.

Kansas City scored in the sixth inning when Cerv singled to center and dashed home on a single to right by Thompson. Cerv had stolen second but would have been there anyhow on Woody Held's walk.

Thompson had gone hitless in 42 previous trips to the plate, the hit was his first since July 23.

No Agreement Reached On Minor League Franchise

BOSTON (AP)—Boston Red Sox General Manager Joe Cronin said Monday night no concrete agreement has been reached with the New York Giants on their plans to transfer to San Francisco next year.

The San Francisco minor league franchise is owned by the Boston club.

Cronin said he has not heard from the Giants since the club's board of directors voted Monday to transfer the National League team to San Francisco in 1958.

"I had a short meeting with the Giants' vice president Charles Feeney Friday but we talked mostly of the problems involved in the transfer," Cronin said.

Concerning a report that the New York club offered the Red Sox $125,000 for rights to the San Francisco franchise, Cronin commented:

"We paid $150,000 for the franchise and put in a lot more money to produce a first place ball club."

Country Club Swimmers Lose To Peoria Club

The determined Jacksonville Country Club swimming team lost to the Illinois Valley Yacht Club of Peoria in a very exciting swimming meet Sunday at the Jacksonville Country Club. The final score was 143-134.

Stan Ferguson was high point man for Jacksonville with three first places. Candy Aichele was second in point totals for the local club.

This was the final meet of the year for the local swimmers. Their record for the season is two wins to go with two losses.

SETTLE LONG FEUD IN BASEBALL GAME
TIMMINS, Ont., (AP)—A long feud over where to locate the districts lands title office has been settled—through a baseball game.

For years officials of the municipalities of Timmins and Cochrane waged a battle of words over which of the two should get the office.

They settled the matter Sunday when the officials of the two communities lined up on the baseball diamond.

Cochrane won 24-7.

Dodgers Considering Move To West Coast

NEW YORK (AP)—The New York Giants officially decided Monday to become the San Francisco Giants. The Brooklyn Dodgers may decide to follow the Giants to California next week.

The historic decision to move westward was made during a 2½-hour meeting when the Giants' board of directors voted 8-1 to shift the National League baseball franchise to San Francisco. The lone dissenter was M. Donald Grant, a minority stockholder.

The Dodgers, who have been given the green light by the league to move to Los Angeles, were expected to formalize their shift at a board meeting next week.

"It's all over, fellows," the perky and obviously relieved club president, Horace Stoneham, told a gathering of reporters and photographers in the Giants' offices as he emerged from the closed meeting.

"We've just voted to transfer the club to San Francisco. That means we'll be playing on the West Coast next year."

That is providing the mayor of San Francisco fulfills all the conditions promised and he agrees to the name of the "Giants" being retained. Approval of the board of directors was expected.

The club, an original member when the National League was formed in 1876, has represented New York City ever since with the exception of a six-year period from 1877 through 1882.

Stoneham, principal force in the drive westward, said he anticipated no difficulty. He revealed negotiations already were under way with Tom Yawkey, owner of the Boston Red Sox, for the Giants to acquire the San Francisco franchise as a forerunner to transferring the Giants to that city. The Red Sox currently operate the San Francisco club in the Pacific Coast League.

Stoneham said he planned to leave for San Francisco some time next week to take up the many matters which have to do with drafting the baseball territory from the Coast League. According to baseball rules, initiation of such a move is limited to the period from Oct. 1 through Oct. 31.

"We are perfectly willing to sit down with the Pacific Coast League and discuss what should be a just and proper compensation for the San Francisco territory," said Stoneham. "Machinery has been set up for such arbitration."

He certainly is ready to abide by whatever the decision. Stoneham said he had been given to understand that plans already have been drawn up for the proposed new 45,000-capacity stadium and that if the plans are approved the arena could be ready for the 1958 season.

Until then we plan to play our games in Seals Stadium, which seats approximately 22,000," he said. "It is our present intention to play all day games there with the exception of twice a week, Tuesday and Friday nights. We certainly don't believe in a complete night schedule."

Stoneham reiterated the underlying reasons for the Giants' decision to quit New York were the inadequate parking facilities, the inadequate stadium and the prospect of losing the championship.

On two previous attempts to swim the lake, Briggs, a history professor at Alaska University, had tried the north-to-south route and failed.

Attempt To Swim To Moored Barge Ends In Death

JERSEYVILLE — D. J. (John) Greeley was drowned in the river at the Grafton docking area about 8:30 p.m. Friday. The body was recovered about 15 minutes after Greeley died.

According to Coroner Rodney C. Jacoby of Jersey county, two men, James Britt and Ralph Thompson, observed Greeley take off his clothing and enter the water some distance from where his barge, "City of Joliet," of the Blaskie Barge Line, Inc., had docked.

He swam away from the shore, but a few minutes later a member of the barge crew, William Weed, discovered the body of Greeley floating in the water not far from the "City of Joliet." Weed called Captain Joseph Conkwright and the two recovered the body of Greeley from the river.

Coroner Rodney C. Jacoby was called to the scene and empaneled a jury to investigate the death. The body was brought to the Jacoby Brothers funeral home in this city and was sent to Chicago Saturday evening to the Walter Quinlan funeral home in that city where funeral arrangements are pending.

Coroner Jacoby stated Saturday that an inquest will be conducted as soon as the report of the pathologist who conducted the autopsy is received.

Amazon women, who lived in primitive days in the region of the Caspian Sea, permitted only female children to survive.

Ohio Woman Perishes In Flaming Truck; 2 Drivers Die Later

Three persons were dead Monday as the result of burns received when two semi-trailer trucks collided a mile and a half west of New Berlin at 10:45 p.m. Sunday.

The dead are: Mrs. Ira Taylor, 37, Overton, Ohio, mother of eight children. Her body was burned beyond recognition in the cab of the truck driven by her husband.

Ira Taylor, 47. He died of the effects of serious burns at 8:58 a.m. Monday at St. John's hospital in Springfield.

John G. Hess, 26, of Springfield, father of five children and driver of the second truck, died at the hospital at 9:05 a.m. Monday.

Both men had been thrown from the cabs of their trucks when they collided. Hess also suffered burns, but his death was primarily due to a severe head injury.

Mr. and Mrs. Taylor were en route from the Fayette Manufacturing Company's headquarters in Lafayette, Ohio. The truck was loaded with house trailer axles consigned to a factory in Kansas City, Mo.

Returning From Sedalia

Hess was employed by the Dunbar Trucking Company of Springfield. His was one of a line of Dunbar trucks that were returning to Springfield empty after hauling the Ice Show that appeared at the state fair to the Missouri State Fair at Sedalia.

The Ohio truck was headed west and the Dunbar truck east at the time of the accident. The tractor of the latter truck was spun around to head almost west and the Ohio truck burst into flames instantly. Other Dunbar employees managed to pull Hess and Taylor from the fire, but were unable to reach Mrs. Taylor.

Clothing Burned Off

Dr. W. C. Telford, Sangamon county coroner, reported that the clothing of both men had been burned from their bodies, and that it was impossible to determine "whether the remains of the woman was a human body or not."

Five Jacksonville Area Teen-Agers Seriously Hurt In Crash In Tennessee

UNION CITY, Tenn. (AP) — Plans for a "quickie" marriage in Mississippi suffered a severe jolt when an Illinois car crashed into a bridge-abutment near here, critically injuring the bride-to-be.

Patricia Spain, 15, of Jacksonville, Ill., was in a hospital here on the "critical" list Monday. Four others seriously hurt in the Saturday night accident were in a hospital at nearby Fulton, Ky.

Highway Patrol Sgt. Billy Moore said Patricia and James M. Trammel, 17, of Jacksonville, the driver, were en route to Mississippi to be married and the others came along as witnesses.

On the serious list at Fulton were Trammel, Judy Waites, 18, also of Jacksonville, and R. L. Buchanan, 18, and Sonny Kendall, 16, both of Ashland, Ill.

Mother Lives At Pittsfield

The critically-injured girl, Patricia Spain, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Spain of Pittsfield, who were notified of the accident Sunday morning. She had been residing in Jacksonville for a short time, relatives said.

James M. Trammel, to whom she expected to be married at Hernando, Miss., is the son of Mr. and Mrs. George Trammel of Jacksonville route 4. He completed his sophomore year at Jacksonville High school in June this year.

Miss Spain's mother is at her bedside in Obion County General hospital at Union City, Tenn. Families of the two other victims of the wreck came to their bedsides Sunday.

Girl Has Many Fractures

Miss Spain has a basal skull fracture, four fractured ribs on the right side, a fracture of the sacrum of the lower left spine, and compound fracture of the left thigh.

Her condition Monday was described by her attending physician, Dr. Chesley H. Hill of Troy, Tenn., as critical.

The other four young people are in Hays Memorial hospital at Fulton, Ky., under the care of Dr. F. E. Crocker.

Judy Waites Has Fracture

It was reported Monday by the Union City Messenger, daily newspaper in the Tennessee city, that Judy Waites, daughter of Mrs. Dollie McEvers of Jacksonville route 3, has a pelvic fracture.

James M. Trammel suffered a severe laceration of his right arm, contusions and bruises. Sonny Kendall of Ashland has multiple pelvic fractures, and chest bruises.

Robert Lee Buchanan, probably the least seriously hurt, has numerous bruises.

Mrs. Dollie McEvers left Sunday for Fulton, Ky., in response to a message of her daughter's injury.

The Jacksonville couple is reported to have been enroute to Hernando, Miss., which is a modern Gretna Green, the marriage laws in that state permitting a girl to be married at the age of 12.

The south bound 1961 model car collided with a bridge, pinning the Spain girl in the wrecked vehicle.

Mayor Appoints 12 On Lake Jacksonville Development Group

A Lake Jacksonville Development Study committee of 12 citizens was nominated by Mayor DuBois last night and received unanimous appointment by action of the council after motions by Aldermen Fitzsimmons and Burchett.

Named to the committee, which will study possibilities of greater recreational advantages in the lake area, are John Linebaugh, chairman; Mrs. Courtney Crouch Wright, Rev. E. E. Thompson, Paul Rhoads, Willard Cody, Joe Grojean, Oscar Figgins, Thomas Cosgriff, Edward Bonacorsi, Orville Ing, Dr. Ernest Hildner, and Dr. Dan Unruh.

Mayor DuBois said he expects to call a meeting of the committee within a short time, at which he will outline its purposes. He said he is hopeful that the group will complete its study in time for a definite program of action in 1958.

Appointment of the new committee took place near the close of the meeting, under the heading of unfinished business.

Recalls 1949 Report

Alderman Kelly called attention to the existence of a lake study committee appointed by the council a number of years ago, which submitted its report in 1949 but was never officially dissolved although it tendered resignations. No action was taken at that time.

Kelly gave the mayor a copy of the 1949 committee report, in which it came to conclusion that cost of development of the lake area would be prohibitive because of needed roads, sewers, and other facilities, and recommended that the area be used as a timber and wild life sanctuary.

Members of the former committee were R. Karl Baker, Robert A. Fay, Walter Hamilton, Attorney Harry G. Story, and Lawrence Crawford.

In view of the appointment of the new committee, the council voted to accept the resignation of the committee which made its report eight years ago.

Open Sewer, Paint Bids

Opening of bids for sewer construction and painting jobs occupied a considerable time at the meeting.

Bids for building water main extensions on West Morton avenue and Grand avenue were bid by Acting City Attorney Guy Wink.

These included the Caldwell Engineering Co., with a bid of $13,146.50 for the Morton avenue extension, and $1,593.50 for the Grand avenue extension, a total of $14,740.

The Marine Construction Co. bid $11,334.39 for the West Morton avenue work and $1,465.27 for the Grand avenue main, a total of $12,799.66.

Alderman Fitzsimmons moved, seconded by Alderman Scott, that the bids be referred to the water committee for evaluation. Nine items of construction were included in each bid.

Five bids for painting certain exterior parts of the municipal light plant on East Morton avenue, including door and window sashes and the cooling tower were opened and read.

These proposals included: Just-In Biggs Painting Co., $565; Don Biggs and Charles Nunes, $1,487; Edwin Murphy, $1,157; Schneider and Murphy, $1,022.50; Kenneth and Albert Biggs Painting Co., $776 plus with two varying factors in the bid.

Bids were referred to the light committee for evaluation after motions by Aldermen Souza and Belzer.

Accept Caldwell Bid

Reporting for the water committee, Alderman Rowe recommended that the council accept a bid of $16,410 by the Caldwell Engineering Co. for a pump to be installed at the Illinois river pumping station, and used to supply water under special contract to the new plant of Kordite Division of Tectron, Inc. Rowe said the bid was the lowest proposal received.

On motion of Alderman Souza, seconded by Alderman Johnson, the council voted the contract to the Caldwell firm, with Alderman Kelly voting "No."

The water chairman said Engineer Paul Rhoads has estimated that $2,500 will be required to repair damage to the Lake Mauvesterre east spillway, caused by the undermining action of water. He said the damaged area is 200 feet long, west of the spillway on the slope protection wall.

After receiving Rowe's report, the council voted on motions by Aldermen Kelly and Sims to issue a call for bids on the repair work, to be received at 7:30 p.m. Monday, Sept. 16.
